

Dear Children,

This backpack is made for kids who have someone, maybe a mom or a dad, in their family with cancer.

When someone in your family has cancer, it can affect you and everyone else. In this backpack you will find some information to help you through this time as well as some art supplies and other items we hope you might enjoy.

You may want to use these art materials to write, draw or express your thoughts and feelings. Some things may help you relax or just have fun. If you have any questions, please ask someone you know.

From,
The Family Connections Program
617-632-3301

Dana-Farber
Cancer Institute

Brigham Cancer Center